GIRL VICTIM OF FORGER TYLER

Man Who Used Richards'
Name Unlawfully Was Arrested at Ocean Park

REBA ROBBINS IS
NAME, NOT TYLER

She Was lured Here Under a
Promise of Marriage—No
Sympathy for Him

Melvin Tyler, forger, and Miss Reba Robbins, aged 17, who passed here as his wife, were arrested at Ocean Park last night by Sheriff Rudbeck and Deputy Squires. Tyler is in the county jail. From the story told by the girl, the officers are convinced that the girl was the victim of the persuasions of a scoundrel.

Tyler is charged with forging the name of J. F. Richards, proprietor of the Depot Restaurant and market at the corner of East Fourth and Broadway streets, to a check for $23.50, drawn on the Farmers & Merchants' National Bank of Santa Ana. He admits his guilt.

Tyler and the girl came here several weeks ago, and as man and wife got rooms at the rooming-house of Mrs. R. S. Cullom. Tyler told a story of having been robbed and left penniless. After remaining here until a few days ago, the couple left. Two warrants were issued, one for forgery and the other for defrauding Mrs. McCullom. The girl was arrested on the latter warrant.

Yesterday afternoon the sheriff's office learned that the couple were in Ocean Park. The girl was at the home of an aunt, and Tyler had a room a few doors away. The arrests were made last night about 10 o'clock.

The officers are convinced that the girl was victimized. Her home was in Indianapolis, Ind. She went to Griffithsville, Ark., where she met Tyler, who persuaded her to leave with him for California, promising to marry her when they reached this state. Tyler never carried out his promise. The girl says that on reaching Los Angeles Tyler pawned her watch and got money enough to come here. The girl has no knowledge of the passing of the forged check, except that she knew Tyler had made a "raise" or some kind.

Convinced that the girl was innocent of complicity in the crimes charged, Sheriff Rudbeck did not put her in jail last night, but placed her in charge of his wife. This morning arrangements were undertaken through Probation Officer Scott and the sheriff's office to secure employment for the girl, who is anxious to be given a chance to make good.

While the sympathy of the officers has been aroused in the girl's behalf, no sympathy is being wasted on Tyler. The officers would not be surprised were they to learn that he has a criminal record in the East. Tyler is 23 years old.

ALL BUT EIGHTH DISTRICT ON FILE

Roosevelt Papers are Leading the Lists in Secretary of State Office

SACRAMENTO, March 23.—With the arrival of Roosevelt petition from Los Angeles county, all but the Eighth district nomination papers for Roosevelt are filed with the secretary of state. Wilson petitions from the Ninth and Tenth districts, Los Angeles and Yuba counties were in first, and Clark petitions from San Luis Obispo are filed. There are no Taft petitions filed.

GERMANY YIELDS TO ENGLAND; CUTS NAVY

Two Dreadnaughts a Year in Place of Three Now Planned, Will Be Built

BERLIN, March 23.—The government's new navy proposals, which were submitted to the federal council today, amount to a concession to England. They provide for the laying down of only two new dreadnaughts a year for the next five years against three which had been previously planned. The cost of the new ships planned is estimated at $31,000,000.

The increased cost of the army as provided in the budget will amount to $84,000,000 in the next three years. No new taxation is planned.

Brain Addled From Blow Of Unknown Thing

OXNARD, March 23.—An unusual case of aphasia is a problem to the physicians attending Sheriff McMartin, who was struck on the head by a man he sought to question while pursuing the murderer of Constable Warren Willard. McMartin continued the chase five hours after he was struck before he collapsed. He does not remember any of the details of the attack, and is unable to recollect names and events. Physicians believe he will recover.

Two more posesses took up Willard's murderer's trail this morning. Two hundred and fifty men, with bloodhounds, are now in the search.

U. S. GOVERNMENT RESTS
CASE AGAINST PARSONS

NEW YORK, March 23.—The government rested its case yesterday against John E. Parsons, Washington S. Thomas and the other sugar trust men on trial in the United States district court for conspiracy under the Sherman law. It was intimated that the defense would not take more than three days. It will hinge on the character of Adolph Segal and his promotions.

Buy All Your Railroad Tickets in Santa Ana

Santa Ana, March 22, 1912.
Mr. J. P. Baumgartner, Editor Santa Ana Register.

Dear Sir:—I want to express to you my appreciation of your editorial of March 21st, entitled "Buy Railroad Tickets in Santa Ana." You have the right idea. The railway boys are loyal to our home merchants in more ways than one. We certainly try to take care of all their troubles, either great or small.

We spend our money at home, and a number of us own our homes in Santa Ana. We are continually talking for the good of our beautiful city. And we get credit for all the business we can show for our respective companies and are thereby enabled to increase our force, thus giving employment to more men.

People who patronize the railroads in their own town are shown more courtesy and given more attention than they can expect to receive from ticket or freight agents in Los Angeles. The railroad boys all have the interest of Santa Anans at heart, ready and willing to accommodate our people whenever possible.

Again I thank you.

Respectfully,

F. T. SMITH,

Agent Santa Fe Railway.

N. B.—The Register received the verbal thanks of the other railway boys.—Ed. Register.

MAINE VICTIMS WERE BURIED TODAY

Military Rites Mark Lowering of Caskets in the National Cemetery

PRESIDENT AND THE CABINET PRESENT

U. S. Sailors and Soldiers Escort Remains of Men Killed on War Vessel

WASHINGTON, March 23.—With impressive military rites the caskets containing the bodies of thirty-four of the Maine victims were buried today in Arlington National Cemetery. President Taft and his cabinet and foreign diplomats were present when the flower-covered caskets were lowered. All flags were at half-mast. On Pennsylvania avenue all the buildings are crepe covered. Twenty-five thousand people witnessed the procession from the Navy building to the cemetery.

A thousand sailors and soldiers wearing crepe escorted the biers from the cruiser Birmingham to the south portico of the Navy building where President Taft, Secretary Meyer and Chaplain Chadwick waited. Volleys were fired across the graves after the caskets were lowered.

SIX ARE DEAD AND SEVEN ILL FROM GAS

Norwalk, Ohio, March 23.—Six inmates of the Huron County infirmary are dead and seven in a critical condition from being overcome by gas during the night. The condition was discovered this morning when attendants opened the ward.

Rep. Lindbergh of Minnesota to Offer
Bill for Abolition of Upper House

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The abolition of the United States senate and the office of vice-president, with reduction of the membership of the house to 300 is proposed in a resolution which Representative Lindbergh of Minnesota announced today he would introduce next week.

EXTRADITION HAS NOT BEEN DROPPED

LOS ANGELES, March 23.—The British vice consul, C. White Mortimer, declared as false the report that the Canadian government will drop extradition proceedings against Charles Bean, alias Hoffman, accused of complicity in the $300,000 robbery of the New Westminster Branch of the Bank of Montreal. He said the Canadian authorities are convinced they have sufficient evidence to secure extradition and that they will present it at Dean's hearing on March 29.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Persistent rumors continue to reach Washington that an underground movement has been in progress for some time looking to the nomination of Justice Hughes as a compromise candidate.

It was considered significant when various Taft delegates in Pennsylvania a few days ago announced in formal resolutions to the public that they are appealing as Taft delegates, but they reserve unto themselves discretionary power to vote for Justice Hughes if they conclude that such action is necessary to insure party success in November.

DIXON TERMS USE OF FEDERAL PATRONAGE AS BRIBERY
WASHINGTON, March 23.—Senator Dixon, Roosevelt's manager, practically accuses the president of the United States of "bribery" in the matter of federal patronage.

In a statement issued tonight Dixon again attacks the administration on its attitude in the Texas fight. Senator Dixon refers to the advertisement to federal officeholders inserted in the newspapers by H. F. MacGregor, the Taft manager in Texas.

INDICATION THAT
INDIANA FOR TAFT

INDIANAPOLIS, March 23.—Complete returns from fifty Indiana counties indicate Taft's lead insufficient to control the Republican State convention here next week. The remaining counties are electing delegates today, and the results will not be known until late. National Committeeman Harry New claims that Taft gains will insure control.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Colonel Roosevelt has admitted the receipt of several letters threatening his life. They were postmarked at Portland, Me., and Boston. The Colonel refused to discuss the contents or the signatures.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Colonel Roosevelt started for Portland, Me., early this morning to stir up the progressive campaign. He says he intends to "preach the doctrine" that

Refusal of Offer to Surrender
Seems to Have Ended All
Hope of no Bloodshed

HILLSVILLE, Va., March 23.—Dismayed by the capture of Sidna Edwards, the Allen gang has retreated deeper into the hills. The outlaws are reported as desperate following the refusal of the authorities to accept their offer of surrender if permitted to plead guilty to second degree murder. It is believed now that they will fight to the death. The authorities are planning to double the posse in an endeavor to end the chase.

RUSHING TO HIS DEFENSE

Hitchcock Declares Bryan is Attempting to Go Back to Boss Doctrine

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Rushing to the defense of Harmon, and bitterly assailing Bryan's intimation that Wall street is promoting Harmon's candidacy, Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, said:

"I regard Bryan's statement as an attempt to repudiate the Nebraska primary law. I expect to abide by that law. If Clark has the most votes in Nebraska, I expect to support him vigorously. If Wilson has the most I shall support him just as vigorously. The same applies to Harmon. This is the letter and spirit of the law."

The statement referred to specifically is Bryan's statement that he will refuse to support Harmon under any contingency.

"This is an attempt to dictate to the Democratic party, an attempt to overthrow the primaries and restore the party to boss doctrine," said Hitchcock.

JUSTICE HUGHES MAY BE COMPROMISE MAN

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Persistent rumors continue to reach Washington that an underground movement has been in progress for some time looking to the nomination of Justice Hughes as a compromise candidate.

It was considered significant when various Taft delegates in Pennsylvania a few days ago announced in formal resolutions to the public that they are appealing as Taft delegates, but they reserve unto themselves discretionary power to vote for Justice Hughes if they conclude that such action is necessary to insure party success in November.

LONDON, via Glace Bay, March 23.—The House of Commons adjourned last night until Monday.

This further delays the enactment of the minimum wage bill which the government hoped would pass both houses this week.

Barring postponements of the passage of the bill, the situation remains unchanged. The adjournment affords ground for confidence the bill will obtain the labor support.

It is stated the adjournment was to give the mine owners and miners an opportunity to discuss the suggestion of Sir Edward Grey that as much as many of the operators were willing to agree to the five and two shilling a day minimum demand by the miners, the disputants should endeavor to reach a voluntary agreement which would obviate the necessity of putting any figures in the bill.

The proposal for such a conference was accepted by both sides.

AN ALLEGED COAL
TRUST TO BE PROBED
BY U. S. GOVERNMENT

CHICAGO, March 23.—A nationwide inquiry into an alleged "coal trust," with Chicago as the center, is in progress by the government, according to a report current yesterday at the federal building.

Government agents are at work gathering evidence against the alleged combination, it is said, especially in Chicago, New York, Pennsylvania and a number of southern states where the coal supply is largest.

WHALEN ORDERED TO PRODUCE HIS BOOKS

Tilt in Lemon Rate Hearing in Federal Court Resulted in Quick Instruction From Judge

LOS ANGELES, March 23.—Division Superintendent W. H. Whalen of the Southern Pacific was ordered to produce car repair costs books by Judge Mack today in a session of the lemon rate hearing in the federal court. The order followed a clash between Whalen and Attorney A. F. Call for the growers. Superintendent Yates of the car repair department of the Pacific Fruit Express, and Assistant General Manager Scott of the Southern Pacific, testified similarly to Whalen, who said it cost more to repair and handle refrigerator cars than ordinary box cars. P. J. Farrell, for the Interstate Commerce Commission, examined the witnesses.

Questioning Whalen, Attorney Call said:

"You insist that the cost of inspection and repair of refrigerator cars is greater than that of ordinary cars?"

Miss Dietrich Dead Result Suffocation Following Fainting

Miss Julia Dietrich died this afternoon as the result of suffocation in a bathroom from which the oxygen was taken by a heater. She was found at 1:15 o'clock unconscious in the bath-tub. She was scarcely alive at that time. Three physicians worked over her for an hour and a quarter, but they could not revive her.

The conclusion of those who investigated is that Miss Dietrich fainted while taking a bath. She had room, the heater evidently took away West Fourth. She was found in the tub, her head resting against the back part of the tub. The heater was going full blast, and the room was extremely warm. In the small

London Reports the Miners'
Strike Situation Growing
Hourly More Serious

CITIES CANNOT
KEEP ORDER LONG

Deaths of Infants and Widespread Suffering are Features of Great Strike

LONDON, March 23.—The Home Office estimates that 2,500,000 are without work as the direct result of the miners' strike, including persons dependent, 10,000,000 are facing starvation. The heads of scores of municipalities sent word to the government officials they would be unable to preserve order unless the strike is speedily settled. Riots are more numerous hourly in Scotland and Wales. Thousands are being fed in soup kitchens and suffering is increasing daily. The infant mortality is appalling. There are double police guards in all the cities fearing violence.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—A temporary injunction restraining the Sunset from dismantling the San Francisco Home system was granted by Superior Judge Lawlor.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—An injunction to restrain the Sunset and Home telephone companies from carrying out the alleged intention to dismantle and disconnect the San Francisco Home service has been applied for in Judge Lawlor's court. Plaintiff is President O. L. Scott of the Municipal Phone and Anti-Merger League. Lawlor set the hearing for the issuance of a temporary restraining order for noon.

ALLEGES JEALOUSY CAUSE OF MURDERS

THE DALLES, Ore., March 23.—Jealousy, not a desire for gold, was the motive for the murder of Mrs. Harriet Guyota and Julia Francois in the Chuckwalla mountains, according to Nestor Francois, Julia's brother. Francois said today that certain Baurwaerts had planned the crime a long time, the girls' letters showing plainly that they had been opened before they were received here. He expressed the belief that the man opened them to learn if the girl suspected the plans. He said Baurwaerts already had the women's money as custodian and therefore money was no motive. He refused to discuss the basis for jealousy.

Protest Entered
WASHINGTON, March 23.—With the American armored cruiser fleet nearing the Orient where it can strike almost at a moment's notice, the United States, Great Britain and Germany, acting in concert yesterday, made vigorous and formal protest against the Russian-Belgian loan to China on the hypotheication of the Kalgan railroad. This is the initial active step by the powers against the partition of China, as proposed by Russia and Japan, and it was not taken until they were in a position to enforce it at the cannon's mouth.

A HEALTHY, HAPPY OLD AGE

May be promoted by those who gently cleanse the system, now and then, when in need of a laxative remedy, by taking the ever refreshing, wholesome and truly beneficial Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, which is the only family laxative generally approved by the most eminent physicians, because it acts in a natural, strengthening way, and warms and tones up the internal organs without weakening them.

It is equally beneficial for the very young and the middle aged, as it is always efficient and free from all harmful ingredients. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine, bearing the name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package.

NEWS LETTER OF FAIRVIEW

FAIRVIEW, March 22.—Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Farnsworth and little daughter made a trip to Mount Lowe Saturday.

Mrs. Flavey Robinson was in Santa Ana on business Monday.

County Superintendent Mitchell visited the school here Wednesday. T. S. Harlin has sold his ranch to James Colmido of Los Angeles, who expects to take possession about April 1. Mr. Harlin and family have lived here a long time and will be much missed. They expect to move to one of the hotel cottages temporarily, and from there to their ranch in Kern county.

Miss Anna Lemke of Olive, is a guest of her sister, Mrs. W. D. Baker, at Follorino.

Miss Lucy Comber of Oklahoma, entertained at a dinner Sunday at the home of her aunt, Mrs. J. M. McKinzie, complimentary to Misses Cora MacKie, Ida and Emma Baker, and Jessie and Helen Jamerson of Follorino. They enjoyed the afternoon horseback riding.

Henry Meyers was a Los Angeles visitor on Tuesday.

Henley Ellis was a business visitor in Los Angeles Tuesday.

Miss Irene Harlin and Miss Maud Glaze took a trip on their ponies Sunday to the bay, where they enjoyed the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Varner and friends, of Fullerton, motored here Sunday and attended church services at the senohouse.

Several from here attended the St. Patrick's Day ball at Newport Beach Saturday evening.

Mrs. W. S. Babb entertained with a luncheon at her home on Fairview avenue, Tuesday, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Art. Meelins of Newport Beach. Covers were laid for twelve.

Milton Tanner of Redlands, formerly of Fairview, is visiting old acquaintances in this vicinity for a few days.

McDannald Snow Bound Additional Evidence of No Place Like This Booster Returning From Land Show Gets Chance to Preach Gospel of Orange County.

HOISINGTON, Kas., March 14.—People living in Southern California know absolutely nothing of the pleasure (?) of being snow-bound in a raging blizzard, out on the boundless prairies of Western Kansas. We were due to arrive here at 3 o'clock this morning, but owing to the fact that there were four trains, immediately ahead of us, we were compelled to creep along all night, and pulled in here five hours late.

On account of a terrific storm, the worst of the season, coming from the west, the train master informed us we would not leave for twelve or fourteen hours. The company has two rotary snow plows working between this place and Pueblo, Colo., and it may be possible they will get the drifts cleared so we can move some time during the night. It's a diversion, if not a pleasant one, this watching out of the car windows at the snow flakes as they go whirling by in clouds so dense you can not distinguish an object a dozen yards away. I have pioneered it in the West for more than forty years, have crossed the desolate snow ranges of the Big Horn and the Yellowstone, have followed the packers' trail over the icy peaks of the Salmon river range, have camped on the trail of the "Caribou" up in the Wind River mountains, but never have I met up with a storm quite so fierce as this. "Lost on the prairie in a fog" would be tame indeed compared to a tramp facing this gale. They are going to annul some of the trains waiting here, and try to make it through to Denver tonight with only the overland passengers and mail car. The management must be in an uncertain mood, for they have made us change cars a couple of times already today.

We left Kansas City at 6 o'clock p. m. yesterday evening, promptly on time, and before darkness set in I had an opportunity of seeing quite a stretch of the city, for the Missouri Pacific tracks skirt it on three sides. As almost everyone knows, Kansas City is built on a bluff, overlooking the Missouri river on one side, the Little Blue on the other, and the sluggish "Kaw" passing down through the industrial section. There is scarcely a block of level ground within the city limits. It's either uphill or downhill, no matter where you go, and a great many business houses have three stories opening on the sidewalks. The buildings are usually three or four stories, and look old and dingy. There seems very little spirit of emulation displayed about the place. Even the public parks have a run-down appearance. There are rock quarries everywhere, and many of the cheap buildings are made from stones taken out of the basement and cellar openings. In fact, there is an underlying strata of good building stone, only three or four feet below the surface, all over the city. On a siding I noticed long trains laden with coal—a commodity just now in great demand throughout this whole section. We follow up the Little Blue a long way, and then drift out gradually onto a broad, open prairie country, where the land looks quite fertile. I notice a great many straw stacks, souvenirs of last year's wheat crop. The country is as level as a level can be, as far as one can see, dotted plentifully with farm buildings, and all surrounded with hedge, an unfailing sign of wind plenty.

In comparison with our giant eucalyptus, the trees in this country resemble pigmies, stunted dwarfs, whose rootlets all too soon arrive at the impenetrable bed rock.

This road has many sociable traits, which to me seem quite commendable. On our run last night we stopped at every city, town and hamlet, and I thought, at least, we were making social calls at a number of farm houses. At one place there was a dance at the town hall, and I played "wall flower" for a spell, and would have remained longer, but I was called to the aid of the ladies. The ladies will now select the gent of her choice for a quadrille. I saw a buxom lass of inordinate proportions look my way with a covetous eye; then I ducked.

Gee, how that wind does howl! "A lost soul in purgatory" is noiseless in comparison. An occasional gust strikes the car and makes it rock like a cradle.

Friday morning, 6:30. We have not turned a wheel, but the snow plow has gone out and if it gets through to the next town we will follow. The wires are down and we are excommunicated from the—I was going to say from the "outer world," but there is no world "outer" than this. Under favorable conditions, it is a twenty-four hour ride from here to Denver, but under present conditions if we get there before Easter we will be making close connections.

8:30. Word just came that there are five engines in the ditch ahead of us, and the wrecking crew forty miles away! This means more delay, more curses on the fates which make it so.

They say "It's an ill breeze that blows good to no one." I have taken advantage of the opportunity to preach the gospel of Orange county to the passengers, and up to date have at least a half dozen converts to my credit. The story of "fruits and flowers in mid winter," presented in contrast with the biting winds and impassable snow drifts, afforded such an alluring subject that I am the center of an interested crowd all day. I have become personally acquainted with every passenger on the train, and find quite a number bound Californians, some for the first time, a few are old "stagers," and the latter I took for witnesses to the seemingly marvelous stories I am induced to relate. There are now 47 Pullman cars side-tracked here, awaiting clearance orders. The first night out from Kansas City I had a car all to myself. I tried very hard to make believe I was a magnate of some importance, owning possibly a controlling interest in the line, but when I go fishing in my jeans and find only a measly lone quarter, my dreams of opulence suddenly fade, and I order the porter to bring me a glass of water with a toothpick.

The contrast is great, this riding a car all to myself, and the usual experience, when I consider it quite fortunate to have a seat with only one other occupant. There are three newly wedded couples on the train, and their billing and cooing behind unclosed doors has furnished us much harmless amusement.

We leave Hoisington at 2:40 p. m., and run out to Bison, a distance of 27 miles, and here await the success of the rotary, which is now making frantic efforts to open up the track to La Crosse, five miles further ahead. Just back of Bison we pass a flock of engines, five of them, lying in the ditch. They were trying to buck the snow off the end of a trestle, when they lost their footing and went over. Arrive at La Crosse at 5:30 and are told the train would take on coal and water for a final dash to Pueblo.

Saturday morning, 8:30, and still at La Crosse. News from the frontier few and scarce. More engines in the ditch. More delay. There has been no freight trains in here for three weeks. In consequence, provisions and stock feed are running scarce. I heard of one man who had killed seven head of cows to keep them from starving. This would seem a fully hard to us Southern California people, and yet, I presume it is liable to happen any season in a country like this. At 11 a. m. we leave La Crosse and snail-pace it across the most desolate, arid stretch of country I have ever fashioned for man's abode. As far as you can look there is nothing but desolation and snow. This is Western Kansas, the "short grass" country. We pass miles of wire fences, the tops of the posts just peeping above the drifts, and cross-fences sometimes one, two and three miles apart. In the early pages of the world's history, we find it recorded that this was the home of countless herds of bison, antelope and "buffaloes." I am not surprised, after having carefully scanned those ancient records, that the Pawnees and their near kin, the Shawnees, should keep up such a gallant though forlorn fight to hold possession of a country so replete in natural wealth for them. This is a country of such magnificent distances that we are of necessity compelled to stop briefly at each way station to allow the cow-catcher time to cool off, and reflect. The speed across miles upon miles of Rush and Greeley counties' desolation, and gaze out on vast stretches of snow untracked by man or beast, yet piled into weird, fantastic shapes by the force of the wind. In marked contrast with this part of His footstool, here, where your nearest neighbor lives over the hills, out of sight, and the "near-by" schoolhouse is located on the other side of the township, Orange county offers a striking contrast, one our people little understand or appreciate. In my lectures at the Land Show I told a tale of hope and opportunity, a truthful lyric, and a great many were deeply impressed. Southern California, and especially Orange county, is an ideal place for those with scant remaining years to round out a pleasant afternoon. While in the hey-day and prime of life it matters not so much, but when the beacon lights begin to fade, and the end of the run is not so far away, here you may contentedly listen for the last bugle call—the final whistle as the train pulls into the station at the end of the long run. A man in this country, surrounded by the contending elements and a soil none too remunerative, stands just about as much chance to gain a competence as a jack-rabbit in a ten acre field, surrounded by a pack of hounds, and the game season wide open.

At every place where a gully has cut the soil, bed rock crops out, showing it underlies the soil only a foot or two below the surface. This,

I suppose, accounts to a marked degree for the poverty stricken appearance of the country homes. To me it seems like desolation had marked it for its own. I can't refrain from mentioning again the gnarled, dwarfed and stunted condition of the trees. Even the scant sage brush seems to have lost hope, and refuses to be comforted. During our stay at Horace, we have an accident and pull out a draw-head. In consequence our next eating place is Pueblo, 150 miles ahead. We left Horace at 6 a. m., four days behind schedule time. It seems to me another half hour for breakfast, instead of carrying us on to Pueblo, which we will not reach before noon, would have made no material difference in the final accounting, and would have saved much profanity. At Stewart, a small station a few miles west of Horace, we pass the tangled remains of two giant engines, piled like heaps of scrap iron along the track. The impact pushed the depot out of alignment about 45 degrees, and left the road bed in such disorder that the company was compelled to build a track around the wreck. The picture is not pleasant to look upon. It is too human like in suggestion. Some one erred, and what was a throbbing, vibrating mass of almost human intelligence, now lies a twisted, distorted heap, dead to all semblance of its former self.

We are over the line into Colorado now, and I see a number of large irrigation canals, but they are as dry as the dining car side board was all the way through Kansas.

We stop at Haswell, a brand-new border town, for breakfast. The storm wrought great havoc with the stock men here. It is claimed at least 75 per cent of the sheep perished. 5000 head in one herd froze to death in last week's blizzard. The furrier and hide industry will receive an added impetus from this storm, for there are hundreds of carcasses lying along the road, bereft of their winter's coat. It is also the garment they usually wore in summer.

The country around Sugar City, for miles in every direction, is as level as a floor, and this in truth might be said of any one of the hundred nearby towns, extending from Kansas City to Pueblo, a distance of 624 miles. Our first view of Pike's Peak, is at long range, nearly 150 miles, but, so far as I can remember, it wears the same snow-capped bonnet it did 47 years ago, when I first skirted its base on the hurricane deck of a prairie schooner, with an average time card of about eight miles a day.

Out a few miles from Ordway we approach the Arkansas river, and skirt its banks for 50 miles. The first crossing is at Pueblo. We arrive at Pueblo at 2:10 and catch a D. & R. G. train for Salt Lake City, with only a few minutes' delay.

Between Florence and Canyon City is a fine apple district, and the general appearance of the farm buildings denotes prosperity.

TO BREAK UP COLD Some Advice That Will Save Time and Money

Strong drink and quinine may relieve a cold, but it usually does more harm than good.

To break up a hard cold in either head or chest thousands are using this sensible treatment.

First of all look after your bowels; if they need attention use any reliable cathartic. Then pour a scant teaspoonful of HYOMEL into a bowl of boiling water, cover head and bowl with a towel and breathe for 5 or 10 minutes the pleasant, soothing, healing vapor.

Do this just before going to bed; your head will feel fine and clear and you'll wake from a refreshing sleep minus a cold in the morning.

For colds, coughs, catarrh, asthma and croup HYOMEL is guaranteed. A fifty-cent bottle is all you need to break up a cold and this can be obtained at the Rowley Drug Company and druggists everywhere.

MOST IMPORTANT FUNCTION OF CITIZENSHIP

It is impossible to over-emphasize the importance of party registration. As the primary system is extended, and the people take a more intimate and intelligent interest in politics, it is seen more clearly, year after year, that the most important function the citizen performs lies in the nomination of party candidates.

If all the political parties nominate good candidates, it goes without saying that a good man will be elected. If by virtue of inactivity and carelessness upon the part of the citizens improper candidates are named, it is equally obvious that an unsatisfactory official regime will follow.

In November, the people merely elect one of the men nominated at the primary election. The real test of what the people want comes, therefore at the primary. That is the place at which to record yourself for either a Progressive or a reactionary.

But primaries are party affairs, and in order to vote at primaries you must be registered as a member of one or the other of the political parties; otherwise you have no vote.

It is well enough to vote independently; but there is a large difference between an independent voter and a person who registers as an "independent" by refusing to state his party affiliation. The former expresses his independent judgment between party aspirants at the primary. The latter gets no vote until the general election.

ALL FOR THE COLONEL

One of the most remarkable developments of the pre-convention campaign thus far has been the invariability of the outcome of "straw votes" taken to ascertain the choice of Republican voters as to the standard-bearer of their party. The outcome is always the same—Roosevelt far in the lead, usually with more votes than all the other aspirants combined. The returns are so absolutely uniform, no matter where straw votes are taken, or under whatsoever conditions, as to show beyond peradventure of a doubt that the Colonel is the man the people want.

A poll taken by this paper showed Roosevelt to be the choice in Orange county more than 5 to 1; and in Riverside county in a poll taken by the Press the result was as follows: Roosevelt, 547; Taft, 172; La Follette, 29.

In this connection the Press observes: "That is more than three to one for Roosevelt over Taft. The La Follette vote is a negligible factor. While many of the Roosevelt supporters favor the Wisconsin man as second choice, it is very evident that in this county he had no strength that would make a factor in a primary. Judging from the returns in this county which may be accepted as fairly representative of sentiment in the state, La Follette would run a very poor second to Taft."

A poll of members of the Riverside Republican county committee was also taken, giving Roosevelt 39 votes and Taft 8—almost five to one. He who runs may read, and he doesn't have to run very fast, at that.

VOTE ALONE WITH GOD

At a banquet tendered to Congressman Sulzer of New York, last night, Edwin Markham read the following poem:

The Old Integrities
"Lo, there are high adventures for this hour—
Tournaments to test the sinews of our power.
For we must parry—as the years increase—
The hazards of success, the risks of peace."

"What do we need to keep the nation whole,
To guard the pillars of the State? We need
The fine audacities of honest deed;
The homely old integrities of soul;
The swift temerities that take the part
Of outcast right—the wisdom of the heart.
We need the faith to go a path untrod,
The power to be alone and vote with God."

CATCHING UP WITH ROOSEVELT

By JUDSON C. WELLIVER in Mnusey's Magazine

The Country Life Commission. There is no more striking example of Roosevelt's intellectual leadership than is afforded by his appointment of a Country Life Commission. It is but very lately that the swift course of events has brought us to a proper perspective of this episode. Mr. Roosevelt saw the close association between the cityward movement of population and the upward trend of living costs. He realized the need of keeping a proper balance of population between city and country. To do that, the country must be made more attractive, more livable. It must offer the inducement of larger rewards for the best effort. Socially, industrially, educationally, it must be made more inviting.

So, before the rest of us had yet reached this conception, Roosevelt had the idea and went at the task of developing it. He named the Country Life Commission and set it at these big and important problems. It did much excellent work; but congress, not having "caught up with Roosevelt," would have none of it. An appropriation to continue the work was denied, and the project had to be dropped.

But note now how great a movement was set afoot, and how it has expanded, despite the piecemeal economies of a short-sighted legislative policy. Today the slogans of that movement are blazoned everywhere. "Back to the farm" is the motto of the most universally indorsed propaganda of the time. Its origin, inspiration, and endowment with a real national purpose must be referred directly to Roosevelt.

Nobody doubts now that it is one of the most desirable social evolutions of the time. The whole nation has caught the idea that was in Roosevelt's mind; and in doing so it has given us a splendid measure of the difference between the broad vision of Roosevelt and the narrow conceptions of a congress that would have killed this whole movement if it had had the power.

If the government had acted on Mr. Roosevelt's recommendations, and had accomplished what it is possible for a government to accomplish, the question of the high cost of living might now be in the way of a satisfactory solution. The eternal law of supply and demand, after all, is the chief factor in the price of foodstuffs and of everything else. Whatever governmental encouragement would tend to ward turning the tide of population back to the land would increase the output of our farms, and would mean cheaper living prices for us all. Here is another great opportunity for "catching up with Roosevelt."

The vindication of Roosevelt. For constructive work and individual initiative, no president has ever achieved results at all comparable to those of Roosevelt's seven years in the White House. With his retirement the constructive, progressive movement in national affairs waned, and accomplishment has since been confined chiefly to the execution of some of the policies to which Roosevelt's initiative and energy gave so much momentum.

The measures that Mr. Roosevelt actually big-ticked into the statutes while outraged conservatism cried loudly against "tyranny" and "dictatorship" are now accepted as wise by the very people who then protested. Proposals that were denounced as ruinous to business are now lauded as its conservators.

The explanation is that the country has been "catching up with Roosevelt." Most of it was pretty well up with him all the time; but the people who prophesied disaster in doubtful times have now caught pace with the others, and the nation is practically of a mind as to the safety, desirability, and usefulness of the Roosevelt policies.

Roosevelt and Rooseveltism have been vindicated by experience. The newest of the Roosevelt laws have been in force about three years; the oldest, about ten. They have been tried and found not wanting. They have stood the test of enforcement. The fears of lawyers that they would be held unconstitutional have been brushed aside by the courts. The predictions that ruin and business calamity would follow in their trail have proved groundless. The policy of government control and regulation of industry, transportation, and finance has been adopted as the program of the future.

Going back over the record of accomplishment under Roosevelt, comparing the forecasts of failure with the facts of success, only one conclusion can be drawn: Roosevelt was right. The constitutional sharps, the laissez-faire economists, the timid statesmen, the terrified captains of enterprise, were wrong.

GOVERNMENT REPORTED TO BE INVESTIGATING TO SEE IF BEAN ASSOCIATION IS TRUST

Los Angeles Times: A corner in beans, or at least a definite understanding among the bean growers of Ventura County, premier bean center of the world, whereby it is alleged that competition is done away with and restraint of trade in beans effected, are the charges given out as back of a remarkable investigation just begun by the United States government.

That the researches of federal officers who have been sent into the bean fields in the guise of earnest seekers after exact knowledge about the habits of the bean may result in the uncovering of a bean trust whose operations are in violation of the Sherman act, was admitted by local representatives of the government yesterday. It is further stated that the bean growers are considerably worked up over the situation.

A few days ago federal officials went to Oxnard, the recognized center of the bean-growing business, and interrogated several persons engaged in the culture, storage and sale of beans on a large scale.

It is stated that one of these officers, was who supposed to come from Chicago, secured a written statement from one of the growers covering the modus operandi of the supposed bean trust, even going so far as to sign his name to the declaration. Later it became known that the officer was connected with the federal service, and immediately there was a hurried telephoning to this city seeking information as to the questioner who had succeeded in keeping his identity so well concealed. The excited man at the other end of the phone was told that the man in question was a federal officer, clothed with authority to make the investigation along lines indicated in the statement that the bean grower had unwittingly signed.

It is understood that the investigation comes as an order from Attorney General Wickersham, who, in his campaign on organizations operating in restraint of trade, has hit upon the bean business as a possible candidate.

In a general way it is charged that the bean growers of Ventura County have manipulated the prices of their products, stored the beans to secure higher prices, shut off competition and maintained high figures for the food; that, in a word, they have followed closely along the line laid down by the recently exploded Plumbers' Supply Trust that voluntarily dissolved some weeks ago by stipulation in the United States Court here, in order to avoid criminal prosecution.

It is charged that the whole bean situation in Ventura County and through it the entire bean-growing industry in Southern California, is in the hands of a committee whose business it is to see that California beans are sold at the highest price, that the market is maintained all along the line and competition hampered whenever it is possible to do so.

The visit of the federal officers at this time was in the nature of a voyage of exploration, suggested by Attorney General Wickersham, who thinks the situation will bear looking into. Whether any prosecution will follow is for subsequent developments to determine. It is admitted the ground work in being laid for a contest seeking to dissolve what the legal department of the government insists is a "combination in restraint of trade."

THE MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP OF WATER IN CALIFORNIA

BY EDWARD P. E. TROY.

The most essential public utility is water. A city may exist without transportation and without artificial light; but it would be uninhabitable without water. That such a necessary element of human life should be permitted to come under the control of private persons would be unbelievable if the fact did not exist among us.

In the United States municipal ownership of water is almost universal. All of the large cities, except San Francisco, own their water systems. The total value of the land, buildings and equipment used by American municipalities for the purpose of supplying water to their inhabitants is reported by the Census Bureau to be $690,184,199. Of this stupendous investment, the total debt is less than half, or $312,216,441.

Contrast this healthy financing of the cities with the Spring Valley Water Company of San Francisco. The evidence presented before the United States court showed that the total sum invested in its properties amounted to about $22,600,000. The total stock and bond issue of the company equals about $45,000,000. Of this sum, $14,000,000 was added to the stock issued a few years ago, by giving the stockholders two shares for one, without any additional cash investment.

In California, fifty-three cities own and operate municipal water supplies. The gross receipts for the past fiscal year, as given in the compilation of the "Financial Transactions" or the cities by State Controller A. B. Nye, totals $1,988,499.31 for the sales of water. The city of Los Angeles accounts for more than half of this sum, its total being $1,072,360.24.

The operating expense and maintenance for the same year amounted to $1,379,663. The interest payments on debt, and sinking fund for redemption for the year made up the further sum of $555,296. A few cities purchased the water, and distributed it to the local consumers. This is done almost exclusively in the southern part of the state, and in a few mountain towns, where the water is purchased from large irrigation systems. The total sum paid out for this purpose was $93,142, of which $54,680 was expended by San Diego alone.

It is the practice in many cities to put all of the burden of the cost of water for municipal purposes, such as street sprinkling, flushing of sewers, fire hydrants, schools, municipal buildings and grounds, and many other uses, upon the water consumers. Were these services made a charge against the city treasury, the receipts of the water departments would be greatly increased, and the charge for water to dwellings and other consumers reduced.

It is unfair to put the burden of this cost of government on water consumers. This double tax would be removed if proper charge were made against all of the property of the towns. The laying of water mains in a street adds much to the value of real estate, but, under this system, the owners of the vacant lots pay nothing, while they reap a large part of the benefits of such municipal enterprises. This system puts a heavy burden on those whose industry builds up the city, while it increases the wealth of the speculators who reap nearly all of the profits.

The rates charged by the cities generally are just enough to cover the cost of furnishing the service. In Healdsburg, the minimum rate is 11 cents per 1000 gallons, in Antioch 7 cents, Gridley 8 cents, Los Angeles 9 cents, San Diego 11 cents, Santa Clara 10 cents, Whittier 4 cents. In but five cities does the rate exceed 25 cents. In all but five of the balance, the rate is twenty cents or less. In San Francisco, although the receipts of the company exceed the total of all municipal plants in the state, the minimum rate is 18 cents and the maximum 38 cents per 1000 gallons. The schedule is so arranged that practically all of the householders have to pay the maximum.

COLLEGE MEN OF WEST ARE WORTH AT LEAST $15 A WEEK
CHICAGO, March 23.—College men graduates from western universities are worth at least $15 a week, according to Charles F. Thwing, president of the Western Reserve University, who registered at the Auditorium hotel yesterday morning. "An educator in the east recently placed the value of eastern graduates at $6 a week," said President Thwing. "My experience is that western graduates can command at the least $9 more than that."

"The late R. T. Crane was of a somewhat opposite opinion as to the money value of a college education, but I think his was an eccentric and superficial view," concluded Prof. Thwing.

AUTOMOBILE ABANDONED

Machine Found Here Probably Belongs to a Los Angeles Physician

An E. M. F. automobile, abandoned either by its owner or by joy-riders, was taken in charge this morning by City Marshal Edwards and placed in the Wm. F. Lutz Co. Garage. The machine was found this morning on Wright street just off of East First street, and was reported to the police by G. R. Smith of 1335 East First street.

The automobile looked as though it had been abandoned on account of engine trouble. The number is 47091, which number, according to the records, belongs to Dr. J. E. T. Jenkins of 1050 West Twenty-fourth street, Los Angeles. Articles found in the machine indicate that the machine belonged to a physician. Tracks show that the car turned on to Wright street from the east. Some of the residents of the vicinity think the car was left about 4 o'clock this morning.

Reunion of Members of Merry House Party—Pleasant Banquet at Dragon

A jolly affair took place in the Dragon balcony last night. It was one of the reunions of the members of a house party held at Alta Vista last Thanksgiving, with Mrs. A. Rowley as chaperon.

The banquet table was decorated with white and pink carnations and asparagus ferns. Place cards were kodak views of the guests, and this unique way of marking the plates was a prolific fun producer.

The delicious menu was served with all the usual perfection of the Dragon catering, and was as follows:

Oyster Soup Olives
Individual Chicken Pies
Sweet potatoes Peas in Cream
Sliced Tomatoes
Frozen Grape Punch
Bartlett Pear Salad Nabiscoes
Hot Mince Pie Ice Cream
Mints Almonds

A Visit to the North

Edward Bangs came home yesterday evening from Pomona College for an overnight stay at home. He left this morning for Los Angeles where he will join twenty Pomona College boys and a large delegation of other college fellows on a trip to Pacific Grove to attend the student M.O.A. convention to be held next week. Later Edward will visit San Francisco and Berkeley. While at the latter place he will investigate U. of C. conditions, as he expects to attend the State University next year.

Before returning Mr. Bangs will visit the big Spreckels sugar plant, being well acquainted with the manager, Mr. Moore.

A Pioneer's Reunion

Old Wyoming friends who are sojourning in Los Angeles, of C. A. Titus, were guests yesterday at the Titus home. They were royally entertained with a sumptuous noon luncheon, and were later taken in autos over the beautiful city of Santa Ana and its environs. On starting for Los Angeles, the gentlemen expressed their delight over their splendid entertainment and the lovely country they had seen. They pronounced Santa Ana the "prettiest little city" they had seen.

The party was composed of well-to-do former stockmen of Wyoming with whom Mr. Titus was associated in '76, when Indian hunts and other exciting experiences were shared by all of them. The reunion of yesterday was in sharp contrast to those days of the pioneer when cowpunches were the means of locomotion and the nearest city was hundreds of miles away. The reunion was one of sincere pleasure to both the host and his friends. Mr. Titus' guests were Messrs. Dave Dorset, Andy Powell, Smith Folsom, Harry Hawkins, Peter Harold and John Boydon.

Brothers Honored

Mr. Otis Bridgeford of South McClay street was pleasantly surprised last evening in having his birthday honored by a few relatives and friends. The affair, as well as being in celebration of the birthday, was a farewell to Mr. Kenneth Bridgeford, who soon leaves to take up his residence at Elmhurst, near Oakland, Cal.

A social evening was passed, and at its close, Mrs. C. E. Price, sister of the honoree, served dainty refreshments of candy, ices and cake.

Brown-Clapp

Vernon D. Brown, a clerk, and Miss Stella Clapp, of 304 Ross street, were married today at noon at the Congregational church by Rev. Seacombe. After a trip of a few days they will be at home in Santa Ana. The couple are well known and popular here.

League Meeting

The local chapter of the American Woman's League will meet on Monday afternoon at the city hall, at 2:30 o'clock. This will be a business meeting and all are urged to attend.

Missionary Tea

The women of the missionary society of the M. E. Church South, held their regular monthly tea service at the home of Mrs. George Wright yesterday afternoon at 2:30, there being one of the largest attendance of the season. About sixty were present to enjoy the social event. Refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served. A program was rendered, including a reading by Mrs. Charles McNaught, solos by Harold Wright and Miss Emma Titus, piano solos by Miss Eva Martin and Miss Youngman, an interesting as well as educational talk by Mrs. T. M. Thompson, a returned missionary from Burmah. Miss Thompson had quite a number of native souvenirs, costumes and photographs.

(Altogether yesterday's meeting was one of the most enthusiastic of the season.)

Poultry dinner at the Hotel Rochester, Orange, tomorrow, 12:00 to 1:30. Price 50c.

DAUGHTERS OF VETERANS

Entertain Wives of Veterans and Members From Nearby Towns

The Daughters of Veterans gave a greatly enjoyed entertainment last evening in the G. A. R. hall, at which the wives of veterans of the Santa Ana organization, twelve members from Fullerton including Department President Mrs. Bishop, and Mrs. Dripps, president at Orange, were entertained and eight Sons of Veterans were initiated. The following program was enjoyed:

Manuel of Arms—Comrade Crandall.
Piano Number—Mrs. A. B. Gardner.
Recitation—Comrade McGill.
Humorous Story—Patrick Day Stories—Judge E. T. Langley.

Description of Work in Sons of Veterans' Tent—Comrade Joe Burke.
After the program a delicious supper was served in the banquet room, where a green and white color scheme was carried out with marguerites, ferns and shamrocks.

College Girls Here

Misses Esther Hedstrom of Anaheim, and Emily Jameson of Corona, Margaret Lord of Compton and Frances Torrey of Orange, of the freshman class of Redlands University are here for an over Saturday and Sunday stay at the G. P. Hill home. They accompanied Misses Nellie and Lucy Hill last evening when they came down from Redlands.

The house party will be a merry one, as the young ladies are in full control of the spacious establishment.

Personals

Mrs. Francis Hope, after a pleasant visit with her sister, Mrs. J. Herndon Garnett, went to Los Angeles this morning. She will be joined there by her husband, who has been in attendance at the land show, and they will leave immediately for their home at Berkeley.

Mrs. Lillian Whaley spent the day in Los Angeles.

Rev. H. E. Murrett caught an early car for Los Angeles this morning. Chas. Riggs had business in Los Angeles this forenoon.

Frank Case was a business visitor in Los Angeles today.

Mrs. F. B. Browning, of the San Joaquin ranch, was a passenger to the Angel City this morning.

Miss Amy Hinton and her sister, Mrs. Best, went to Los Angeles this morning for a few days with relatives.

The many friends of Miss Gertrude Montgomery will be rejoiced to learn she is convalescent after a five weeks' illness.

Mrs. A. R. Herve and little daughters, Josephine and Helen, went to Long Beach this morning to spend the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. John Goodfellow of Grinnell, Iowa, are spending the winter in Southern California, and are over Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Flook.

J. P. Baumgartner left for San Francisco today.

Mrs. James B. F. Nimmo, J. C. Stearns and F. H. McKee spent a pleasant afternoon yesterday with Mrs. Ellis H. Smith in her beautiful new home in Tustin, recently purchased from the Harries. This is one of the delightful country homes for which Tustin is noted.

'Twould Mean Widowhood

The cook for a well known Seattle family left, and no other could be obtained, so the lady of the house did the cooking herself with such satisfactory results that after a month her husband gave her a beautiful set of sables as a token of his appreciation of the good dinners he had enjoyed. Of course, the neighbors soon heard of this, and when the cook left in another equally well known family, the lady of that house said to her husband: "Well, the cook has gone, and I'm not going to bother to get another. I'm going to do the cooking myself, dearie. You heard what Mr. So-and-So gave his wife, she cooed, 'What shall I get for my cooking?' 'Woman,' said her husband, pushing her away, 'you will get a long black veil.'—Saturday Evening Post.

—As stated a short time ago in the papers of Santa Ana that I would have further announcements to make I wish to say that I am now ready to do a general and special practice of medicine and surgery.

While I believe in surgery and have had a varied experience in the surgical field, especially operation on work on the eye, ear, nose and throat, I devote my greatest effort, experience and skill in curing diseases without the knife.

I am a college and university graduate. In medicine and surgery I am a graduate of Rush Medical College of Chicago. Deeming the allopathic practice of medicine not broad enough for the cure of diseases I took up eclectic and homeopathic medicine and now practice in all these schools. I have taken thorough post graduate work in Chicago and the best medical centers in the east and during the last five years have devoted much attention to chronic and difficult cases.

While I believe I have as well an equipped office as any on the Pacific Coast I want it distinctly understood that I do not depend upon up-to-date scientific apparatus alone, but I associate with my appliances the very best internal remedies known in the practice of medicine.

To those who think the grass is greener on the other side of the fence—who go to Los Angeles or elsewhere for treatment, consultation and diagnosis:

I wish to say that I have the equipment, the experience and ability to give as good results, no matter to whom you go or where you go.

What the Press of His Former Home Says of Dr. Enoch.

(From the Salina Daily Union)

"Dr. E. L. Enoch, well known in the medical fraternity of Topeka, Iowa, and Garden City, Kansas, has located in Santa Ana, California, and will practice his profession, medicine and surgery, there, and doubtless with his success and ability will add materially to the professional population of that town as well as make a good citizen. His old friends here will wish him complete success and prosperity."

"Dr. Enoch makes a specialty of treatment of chronic and extremely difficult cases, but will also engage in general practice. His office equipment includes appliances that have been tested and recommended by medical scientists of both Europe and America."

"Dr. Enoch is a member of the International Congress of Tuberculosis and is known and quoted as an expert on that disease. In his ten years' practice in Kansas he has the reputation of having never lost a case of typhoid fever, diphtheria, pneumonia or scarlet fever."

From Garden City Herald

"Dr. E. L. Enoch writes from Santa Ana, California, that he has located there on account of his health. He met with an injury while in Salina and nearly lost his life through blood poisoning. The people of that city are to be congratulated on getting Dr. Enoch to locate there. He is certainly an expert in the handling of difficult and chronic cases."

"While here he paid much attention to throat and lung troubles, tuberculosis and difficult cases of all kinds, and so successful was he in these cases that his office was at all times crowded with patients seeking relief, and that he did good work here is attested by dozens."

Some may say I have used some pretty strong statements—well, it is up to me to make good. I am here to make Santa Ana my home. Come in and get acquainted, even if you don't need medical attention. You will find me a gentleman. Should you find me worthy at any time to become your physician I can assure you that I will do all in my power for you. I am in Santa Ana to offer my services to the honest practitioner the best—the honest practice of medicine.

Yours truly,

DR. E. L. ENOCHS.

Stage Illusions

"You left the roses at Miss Tootie Limber's room?"

"Yes, sah."

"I didn't hear her say nuffin', sah. Her husband took de flowers."

"Yes, sah. Mistah Jim Sawyer, dat's his name. He said, 'Mo' flowahs' an' then he turned round an' called out somef'n' else."

"What did he say?"

"He said, 'It's a pity dese pinheaded ginks ain't got enough sense to see a bunch of dollars instead of all dese fool perlers.'—Cleveland Plain Dealer."

Not for the Plumage
The ancient mariner had shot the albatross.

"Well, what of it?" he said brazenly. "I did it to oblige Sam Coleridge. I wasn't going to stand here and see a great poem knocked into a cocked hat for lack of incident."

Which seems to show that occasionally it is necessary for somebody to furnish the frightful example.—Chicago Tribune.

MADAME MOUNTFORD

MADAME MOUNTFORD TO LECTURE HERE

Opening Talk of Series Will be Given Tomorrow Eve at First M. E. Church

Madame Lydia Von Finkelstein Mountford, from Jerusalem, who will give her first lecture tomorrow evening in the First Methodist Episcopal church, closed her fifth week of lectures in Pasadena last Thursday evening. These were given to large crowds, some standing through the entire lecture. Among the five churches were the First M. E. church, Lake Congregational, and First Christian churches.

Passion week she will be in the First Congregational church in Los Angeles. The lecturer was born and bred continuously for twenty-two years after her birth in the Holy Land. During her lectures she presents many interesting articles and gives their meaning, throwing much light on obscure parts of the Bible.

Santa Ana is indeed fortunate to hear these lectures. No admission will be charged, but a free will silver offering will be taken.

PLEASANT AFFAIR GIVEN LAST NIGHT

The Eastern Star Whist Club
Enjoyed Evening at the Helmsen Home

ANAHEIM, March 23.—The ladies of the Eastern Star Whist Club and their husbands and friends were guests last evening at the spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Helmsen.

evening passed very quickly last night, and very high scores were made. The home was tastefully decorated for the occasion in bouquets of roses and ferns.

The prize winners were Mrs. V. U. Simpson, ladies' first prize, and Mrs. Henry Hansen consolation. Mr. Lee Scott won the gentlemen's first prize and Mr. Barnes won the consolation. The guests last evening were Mrs. M. C. Hayes of Harper station, who has been visiting for the last four or five days with Mr. and Mrs. Helmsen. Mrs. Voltz of Los Angeles, who was a guest of Mrs. Stough.

The members and their husbands present were Messrs. and Mesdames C. M. Kemp, E. E. Angell, V. U. Simpson, Robt. McKee, W. P. Quanton, Henry Hunsen, the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. J. Helmsen; Mrs. Eva Boyd, Mrs. Laura Resh, Mrs. Genevieve Porter, Mrs. Mary Stough and Mrs. Dr. Gifford. The single gentlemen were O. A. Loggman, Lee Porter, Mr. Barnes and Claude Stough.

LEASE GIVEN TO STANDARD

Part of Frank Emery Ranch
Will be Site for Drilling for Oil

FULLERTON, March 23.—An important movement in the oil situation at this place is the announcement that the Standard Oil Co. has just secured the north half of the Frank Emery ranch, which lies about two and one-half miles north-west of this city. Active work will be begun at once on this lease, and two rigs are now being put up.

This lease has been sought often by nearly all of the oil companies doing business in this field. Up until this time they have all been unsuccessful. The Standard has undoubtedly given an awfully good deal to the owner, Mr. Emery, to secure this property, as this place is considered by all oil experts to be sure to produce oil, and a high gravity oil.

The property is on the Emery ranch, which consists of nearly a thousand acres. This new lease is in the upper half and is just south of the Murphy Oil Co. It is located about two and one-half miles east of Northam station. In securing this lease the Standard has expanded the present oil field, which it was thought would not be enlarged until the present leases had been thoroughly worked. The action of the Standard, however, means that they are not going to delay developments at all, but will work every available lease which has a good prospect of oil.

Baseball Tomorrow

ANAHEIM, March 23.—The local baseball team will meet the Jose Villas on the local grounds tomorrow in what promises to be one of the best games seen on the local grounds this year. The visitors are all good players and the team has a good record. If the local team beats, there will have to be some very good ball played.

NOVEL AUTO RACE CREATING INTEREST

Since the automobile first attracted attention 15 years ago, it has been entered in every form of race and contest imagination and expediency could devise, but it remained for the citizens of Canton, Ohio, to see a motor car contest that was positively unique. The Canton event was for cars propelled by their own self-starters. No other power being used. The conditions were normal, the cars running with four adult passengers and the course was a little less than two-fifths of a mile over the streets of Canton.

There were five entrants, all Cadillac cars, and all of them finished. The contest was interesting, because it was based on the employment of a 912 device; it was unique because it was the first ever held; and it was significant because it proved the efficiency of the cranking device which was thus performing far more than what it is intended to do.

The one thing an electric cranking device is designed to do is to turn over the engine while the car is standing still—a thing that is necessary, until this season, to do by hand. All he device is there for is to start the engine.

But in the case of the five Cadillac cars in the test, the spark plugs and the pet cocks were removed from the engine itself and the cranking device turned over the engine continuously many thousands of times. It also pulled the weight of the car itself and the four passengers.

Anyone who had a self-starter on his car was allowed to enter the test, but the only entrants were the five Cadillac cars. The course was from the public square to the garage of the A. H. Wilson Motor Car Company, about two-fifths of a mile away. The last two blocks were up grade with a rise of about nine feet. One of the cars had been driven about 4000 miles and was given a handicap of 32 feet, but it finished first, 75 feet ahead of its nearest competitor. After all the cars had come in, two were left running and the starter kept the engines running over one hour and 14 minutes, when they were arbitrarily topped.

$70,000,000 IS THE SUM BORROWED FOR R. R. PROJECTS

Riverside Press: How would you like to borrow $70,000,000? That's what the S. P. L. A. & S. L. Railroad Company has done, and when you come to think of it, it is a very significant action in view of the rumors that the Salt Lake route is under consideration the construction of its own line from Barstow to Riverside, and the possible extension into new fields.

A trust deed from the S. P. L. A. & S. L. railroad to the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, has been recorded here. This document makes a good sized printed book. All the property of the company is mortgaged, the mortgage being given to cover 4 per cent 50 year gold bonds.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

There was a brisk trade in vegetables. Weather conditions were such that the market showed marked strength along all lines. Supplies were liberal, but with a good demand both locally and from the outside quoted prices were firmly upheld.

There was an excellent demand for asparagus and this tended to relieve the market of undue burden. Fancy No. 1 stock was held at 15 cents per pound, while there was a wide range of quotations on inferior grades.

Rhubarb was in good supply and weak, sales rarely exceeding $1.25 per box. Lettuce was in good supply but only fancy stock was in anything like demand. Fancy celery from Sacramento River points was firm at the old range of $5.75 per crate. Inferior celery sold around $5.50 per crate.

Green peas were in good demand and remained steady, although the supply was large. The best offerings sold at the outside figure of 7 cents per pound. Green and wax beans were in light supply and firm at 20 cents per pound.

Trade in citrus fruit was fair. There was a good demand for fancy standard size navel oranges at quoted prices. Lemons, grapefruit and tangerines moved slowly at former rates.

A few apples came out of storage, but supplies of choice stock of any variety except Beauties and New-tons were small. Retailers bought small lots to meet immediate wants.

Tropical fruits were active and prices firm.

There was one change in the dried fruit market. Golden raisins were advanced 1/2 cent. Other varieties were unchanged. The market generally was steady.

The egg market was quite unchanged. There was a firmer undercurrent shown, due to brisk sales. Case counts and pullets' stock was best in all. Receipts were 831 cases.

The butter market was firm to steady. There was a good demand for creamery extras. Ladies and country butters were inclined to drag at quoted figures. Arrivals were 29,330 pounds.

The potato market showed no change over the previous day. There was a good demand for spuds of all varieties under the revised quotations. Receipts were 2631 sacks.

The prevailing quotation of $4.50 per hundredweight on all varieties of onions was firmly held. Yellow Danvers were best in call. Receipts were thirty sacks.

THIS HOME

On Bush street ought to interest any "home-seeker." It is close in, well built and well finished, modern in all details. Screen sleeping porch and built-in features that make the interior very desirable. It is located on a corner, 150 feet on Bush street and 150 feet deep. Good, roomy barn. The lot is covered with a fine variety of family fruits as may be found in the city, with elegant shrubbery and lawn. Altogether it is one of the most desirable, homelike places on that street of pretty homes. $3000 will secure place, and the balance of the price on terms to suit the purchaser. We hope that you will come and ask about this.

ST. PATRICK AND HIS GREAT WORK FOR IRELAND AND ALL THE WORLD

His Wise Development of Churches And Schools in Ireland Stamps Him
As Pioneer of Civilization

This interesting paper following was read by Mrs. E. D. Cooke at a recent meeting of the Woman's Club and the information it contains will be a revelation to many of St. Patrick's work and character:

Saint Patrick is one of the noble men whom the world will not, cannot forget, and the 17th of March keeps his memory green among millions. But who was he? By birth, he was, most probably, a native of England. He speaks of visiting his parents in Britain. It was not the England of today, educated, civilized, but dark, cruel, a land of freebooting.

At the age of 16, Patrick was taken captive by a band of men and sent to Ireland, where he remained six years. It was this captivity that turned his heart and feet to the beautiful island. He remained at home with his parents until he was 40 years of age. He now felt that he must go to Ireland and bear tidings of Christ. He left behind him a confession of faith. From this we learn his earnest love for the Bible; of his "hot love for God," as he styles it; of his burning desire to tell the good tidings. Filled with this spirit he left his home to conquer a country for Christ.

When he landed in Ireland it was filled with the religion of the Druids, hysterical, awful, cruel. On their stone altars, under the oak trees, they offered up their first born in sacrifice. So earnest was Patrick in preaching and so brave, that this frightful system was swept away. In the open air he preached to thousands of people. He traveled the country from end to end.

He ordained and established over 350 pastors in various parts of Ireland. Well has he been called the apostle of Ireland. He did not discover it as a Columbus, but as one of God's chosen men he brought it to Christ. When he planted churches, he put schools alongside of them. The land became rich in schools and theological seminaries. For centuries the schools and universities of Ireland were the most distinguished in Europe. In the eighth century the seminary Armagh had 7000 students. When learning had decayed in Scotland, in England, in France, the light was kept burning in Ireland. The world today is more indebted to Ireland for what there is of true religion, and true learning than is generally dreamed of. Ireland was Christianized by Patrick. Scotland was Christianized by Irish missionaries and teachers. Columba and his school at Iona grew out of Patrick's life. France, Switzerland and Germany received the impetus of a new religious life from brave and earnest Irish preachers. Patrick found Ireland torn in pieces by petty factions, and he left it united. He found it heathen, he left it full of churches. He found it uneducated, he left it full of schools. The traditions which hang around him, such as driving the toads and snakes out of the country, and the miracles were not heard of until 700 years after he was dead.

No name, perhaps, is covered with more misconceptions than that of Patrick. In no sense of the word was he a Romanist. He was a simple hearted man of one book, the book that made him was the Bible. In his confession, which is but a short tract, are found twenty-five quotations from the Bible. The venerable Bede says of Patrick's followers that they would receive those things only as a matter of doctrine which are contained in the writings of the prophets, the apostles and evangelists. Patrick's confession speaks not a word of the virgin or invocation of saints. The ministers were married men. Popery as it now is was not yet born. Ireland did not in fact become Catholic until the twelfth century, then Catholicism was forced upon her by England. It was the last century in Europe that acknowledged the supremacy of the Pope.

Patrick was one of the noblest, purest protestant ministers the world has ever seen. He can no more be made of the school of Pope Pius than could Augustine with his salvation by faith or Savonarola. If the spirit of Patrick with his purity of heart and love for the Bible today filled the heart of Ireland it would again be a land of living saints. Patrick died March 17th, 465, in the 75th year of his age.

AT THE COURTHOUSE

REGISTRATION TOTALS MADE

Orange Has 1347 and Anaheim 1319 Since January
Books Were Opened

Registration Clerk Benedict has footed the registration books received from Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton, Huntington Beach and Stanton, which incorporated cities are to hold municipal elections on April 8. The footings are for the registrations since Jan. 1 of this year. The totals do not show the real totals of registrations possible to be voted at the city elections, for the reason that anyone whose name appears on the old Great Register may vote at the city election and also at the May presidential primaries, but not at the September primaries.

The total registration for Orange since Jan. 1 is 1347. By precincts the other cities are: Fullerton No. 1, 334; No. 2, 186; No. 3, 338. Total, 858.

Anaheim No. 1, 399; No. 2, 234; No. 3, 312; No. 4, 374. Total, 1319.

Huntington Beach, 498. Newport Beach, 288. Stanton, 239.

Ill Health Cause
Ike Young, a carpenter well known here, was arrested last evening by Constable Jackson on a charge of insanity. Ill health is believed to be the reason for the failure of the man's mind. Young's examination in the superior court is set for 9:30 next Monday.

Declares Homestead
Mrs. Sallie P. Marsh yesterday recorded a declaration of homestead on lot 15, block 3, South Side addition to Santa Ana; value, $5000.

Case Dismissed
A dismissal was filed today by Attorney Bishop for the plaintiff in the suit brought by H. R. Barcus against R. R. Raymond.

Marriage Licenses
George H. Miles, 47, and Esther A. Gree, 48, both of Los Angeles; Wm. C. Klapproth, 41, and Katherine D. C. Zimmer, 28 both of Los Angeles; Roy F. Shepherd, 21, of Monrovia, and Minnie E. Evans, 29, of Los Angeles; Greenberry C. Baker, 66, of Santa Ana, and Lizzie Fabun, 49, of San Bernardino; Vernon D. Brown, 21, and Stella Clapp, 17, both of Santa Ana.

EAST NEWPORT NEWS BUDGET

EAST NEWPORT, March 23.—Mrs. B. N. Hurd and Miss Frances Hurd arrived from Los Angeles last Monday to spend the week in their cottage on Lindo avenue. They were accompanied by Mrs. Hurd's grandchildren, Charles and Harriet Hurd, of Riverside.

Dr. and Mrs. Solland of Los Angeles spent the past week end in their cottage here.

The Carroll cottage on the ocean front is being occupied this week by a number of diversiders who motored down last Saturday. Included in the party are Mr. and Mrs. Myron Alguire, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Griffin and Miss Grace Murry and Miss Ruth Johnson.

Max Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wilson, who has been attending school in Riverside is here for the Easter holiday time.

Councilman Betouski and family of Los Angeles, have been spending several days in their home here.

Captain and Mrs. Wm. Cox, who were recently married at San Diego, are spending some time in the Cox cottage near the bay. Mrs. Cox was formerly Miss Agnes Langhurst of San Diego, and Captain Cox is an officer and director in the San Diego Construction Company.

Dr. and Mrs. John Walker, and son, Per Stout, arrived from Los Angeles this week and will make their home here for some time. They are at present in a company cottage, No. 11, on the bay front.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Pickler have been spending several days this week in Los Angeles, Mr. Pickler looking after the Newport exhibit at the Land Show during the absence of W. W. Wilson.

Mrs. S. E. Frisbie and the Misses Frisbie of San Diego, were guests here one day this week, of Mrs. B. N. Hurd and Miss Hurd.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Wilson were passengers to Los Angeles on Wednesday of this week to attend the Land Show.

P. T. Evans and children, Kathleen and Carey, drove from Riverside last Saturday in their automobile, to spend the week in their cottage on Ocean avenue.

Mrs. F. H. Edwards of Los Angeles, entertained a party of friends over the past week end, in her cottage on Buena Vista boulevard. The young ladies of the party were the Misses Helen Barton, Isabel Lindrode, Muriel Tottenheim, Harriet Wagner, Helen Hoover, Zehna Willigan, Frances Edwards and Lillian Stanton.

Mrs. Walsh and son, Thomas, with Muriel, Carol and Van Court Castleman, of Riverside, have been spending the week in the Castleman cottage on Ocean avenue.

The Ebell Club held its regular meeting on Thursday of this week and owing to the inclement weather the meeting took place at the home of the president, Mrs. Edwin L. Quinn, Miss Lindenberg, Mrs. W. Parkinson and Mrs. Horace Little were appointed as a nominating committee for the annual election, which takes place the first Thursday in May. Mrs. F. J. Van Order, as curator of the day, had prepared an excellent paper, which was enjoyed.

Among the directors are J. S. Valley, A. M. Chaffey, J. E. Fishburn, W. E. Dunn, W. W. Mines, Phillip L. Wilson and W. F. Staunton. Valley formerly managed the Cawston Ostrich Farm and Staunton is a director of the Pan-American Ostrich Farm at Phoenix, Arizona.

RICHEST NEGRO IN NORTHWEST IS DEAD

J. Edwards Hawkins Was Head of Grand Lodge of Masons in Washington State

SEATTLE, Wash., March 23.—J. Edwards Hawkins, a negro attorney reputed to be the wealthiest man of his race in the Pacific Northwest, died Thursday night, aged 48 years. He was successively jockey, barber, miner and lawyer, and in his professional work had many white clients. He was the head of the Grand Lodge of Negro Masons of Washington. He owned a beautiful home, a large ranch and other real estate and carried $20,000 life insurance.

CONGRESS BILL MAY MAKE PRESIDENT A STRIKE MEDIATOR

WASHINGTON, March 23.—An effort will be made to rush through congress a bill authorizing the president to mediate in coal strikes. This proposition will be in the form of an amendment to the Erdman act which now gives the United States commissioner of labor and the chairman of the interstate commerce commission authority to act as mediators in railway strikes affecting interstate commerce.

CANCERS TUMORS

Owing to the many patients which we have under treatment at Santa Ana, the Radio Specialist of the Therapeutic Institute of Los Angeles has made arrangements to make regular visits at Rossmore Hotel on Tuesday of each week until further notice from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Marvelous Cures are being effected in obscure and chronic diseases by simple, safe, and reliable methods that cure quickly without drugs or operation. No pain, no knife.

We give below names of a few of our many cured patients:

Mrs. Geo. Bredow, 1239 East Twenty-second street, Los Angeles, says:

"Some years ago I had what the doctors called a fibroid tumor. They estimated that it would weigh at least thirty-five pounds. To my knowledge it had been growing for about five years. It caused me a great deal of suffering and anxiety. On September 1, 1910, I called on a physician in charge of the Therapeutic Institute, 946 South Broadway, for consultation and advice. He made a careful and thorough examination of my case and to my surprise, said he could cure me without an operation. I took treatment from him for six months and in that time I was reduced to my normal size and completely cured. It has been now nearly two years since I took the treatment, and I have never had any return of the trouble. I consider this wonderful, because the leading physicians and surgeons that examined me before all said the only thing to do would be to go to the hospital for an operation, and it would be doubtful if I would recover from the shock, owing to my weakened condition. I can say to the ladies of Los Angeles and vicinity that I feel that I owe my life to the treatment and can highly recommend it to the afflicted."

Lewis Williams, 2632 Loosmore street, Los Angeles, well known retired business man, cured with two treatments, of cancerous growth on the hand.

G. H. Farrar, 1525 East Fifty-first street, Los Angeles, was cured in two months of a large cancerous tumor on left breast, from which he had suffered for four years.

Mrs. J. Brown, 219½ North Olive street, cured of piles, after intense suffering for ten years.

MC KINLEY VICTOR OVER JEFFERSON

McKinley practically clinched the city grammar school championship in baseball when its team played winning ball all the way against the Jefferson nine yesterday afternoon on the McKinley diamond, taking its second straight game from the rival school by a score of 5 to 3.

Over five innings the Green and Gold pitchers, Edwards and Brown, held their opponents without a run, and were never in danger after the three scores were made through infield errors.

Considering the fact that nearly all of the McKinley players, as well as the umpires needed practice, the game was a good one and practically every man gave indications of being good baseball material after a few weeks of practice.

In the first inning Vic Burnell opened with a clean single to left and same home when Edwards singled to center. In the same frame Brown scored another run for McKinley. He received a walk and went to third when Lamar made a heavy to the keystone sack and came home when White batted Reeder's drive to short.

The Jefferson runs came in the third through a comedy of errors and wild throws by the McKinley infield. Brown and Edwards scored again for the winners in the third after another walk by Brown and a three-bagger to center by Edwards.

Three hits netted more for the Green and Gold in the sixth, Brown crossing the pan. The speedy one-hit right and took third when Squires made a class B boot of Dis Burnell's boulder to second and scored on a steal.

LIVED ON RAW EGGS

Mr. Richard's Experience With Different Diets. Peaches and Buttermilk for Three Years.

Cecilton, Md.—Mr. George Richards, of this place, during the past 12 years, has probably tried more different diets than the average person would ever use in a lifetime.

What he has to say about his experiments, must therefore be highly interesting to anyone suffering from indigestion or stomach troubles of any kind.

He says: "For more than 12 years, I suffered with stomach troubles, and paid hundreds of dollars for doctor bills and medicines. I was also operated on for piles.

I lived on dried peaches and buttermilk for nearly three years. The only thing that would not give me pain was raw eggs. I was a physical wreck. I could not sleep, and was as near crazy as a man could well be.

I must say that after taking two 25-cent packages of Thedford's Black-Draught, it did me more good than all I ever spent for other medicines.

I have been working daily on the farm ever since, and I am as hard as iron." This purely vegetable remedy has been in successful use for more than 70 years. Try it. But be sure that it's "Thedford's."
